Boston Jimny Kelly for me at all costs, Will send detectives at once."
This was the message which Chief Bureau, waived triumphantly before the reporters to-day as the fruits of his circulars sent out through the country when inspectors correct a gang try when inspectors correct a gang of yeggmen and their "queen" in the South End Monday, their houses filled with burglars' tools and loot.

The telegram came from Post-Office Detective H. T. Gregory, at Lorenz, S. C., who wants one of the prisoners for a post-office break at West Point, Va., four years ago.

Kelley was with Gussic Duford's notorious gang of safe-blowers, who on their burglarizing trip from New, York to Florida stopped off at West Point, gagged the watchman, blew the post-office into Junk and loft the west wing of the town ablaze as they escaped.

Gussic Duford escaped from the Chrolina police, while another of the gang, "Kentucky Bill" Morris, is doing twenty years in Charleston prison. United States detectives will arrive to-morrow to take charge of Kelley.
